Elevation High: 7,732
Elevation Low: 6,600
Difficulty: Moderate
Setting: Forest
Season: Spring-Fall

Northwest Forest Pass required

Free self-issued on-site Wilderness Permit required

DIRECTIONS & TRAIL ACCESS:

Turn south on Elm Street (Road 16) in the middle of Sisters. Follow the signs to Three Creeks Lake. The pavement ends after about 15 miles. Continue on the dirt road to Three Creeks Lake. Turn right at Driftwood Campground. Trailhead parking is just before the campground on the right.

DESCRIPTION:

The trailhead is across the stream from the parking area by the main road. The trail starts in deep forest and becomes more open uphill. At the top of the rim the trail is not well-defined; the hiker is faced with very open country. Because of a lack of a well defined trail on the top of the rim, be sure to clearly identify the intersection of the trail and the rim. This will help identify the location of the trail for the hike back to the trailhead.

The first 0.2 miles of the trail is a steep climb and then levels out and is more of a moderate hike. The trail takes you to the base of Broken Top. Views of the Cascades and surrounding areas below are breathtaking. During the early summer months the meadows are full of wildflowers. Please do not pick the wildflowers. Leave them for others to enjoy.
